If Mr. Kern should get licked once more he would be on a par with his running-mate on the last Democratic national ticket.

Governor Fernald has urged the Maine legislature to abolish the September election. Without Maine and Vermont to furnish the base-line, what will the readers of the political barometer be able to do!—Concord Monitor.

They will probably join the working politicians and let the reading go. By the way, what Vermont governor will have the sand to imitate Governor Fernaid's act?

The St. Albans Messenger is "home again," but home never was like this except in house-cleaning time. Nevertheless, The Messenger is looking forward expectantly to the day when it can dispense with carpenters, masons and other such necessary evils incident to its rehousing and again revel in the pleasures of the most up-to-date printing plant in the state. That the contemporary has been able to continue publication ever since the day of the fire that wiped out its plant-on Decemher 20 was due to the kindness of two of its neighbors, the Swanton Courier and the Burlington Free Press. SAM LANGFORD TO FIGHT JOHNSON FOR THE TITLE

Boston Colored Fighter is to Meet The Champion Heavyweight at National Sporting Club in London, May 24.

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Sam Lang-ford, the Boston colored fighter, will meet Jack Johnson in a battle for the eavyweight championship title of the vorld in London, Eng., May 24.

That was made certain today when Joe Woodman, the manager of Lang-ford, received a cablegram from Man-ager Bettinson of the National Sportng club, stating that the club had offered a purse of $25,000 for the fight.

Johnson promised before he left England for Australia to fight Burns that he would return and would fight before the National club. Johnson is popular in England. There is no color line in that country, so the fight be-ably draw a record crowd.

The fight on May 24 will settle for some time the colored supremacy. Langford, next to Johnson, the chamfighters. With the argument between them settled, it will be up to a white man to reclaim the title. Maye it's just a coincidence that Jim Jefferies has just started training for a world-round theatrical engagement, that if the present plans go through will land him in london about July 1. That would be five weeks after the battle between the colored men.

As an additional attraction on May 24, which is called Derby week in England, a 20-round event has been arnged between Jimmy Walsh of Boston, the American champion bantam-weight, and "Digger" Stanley who holds the title in England. Stanley had the best of one battle with Walsh in England, but the American put the gloves all over the Englishman in a return match in Boston about a year ago.
